

SIGNING A CONTRACT MAKES GOOD SENSE - A stitch in time saves nine

90% of payment problems experienced by contractors are because no contract was signed. The urgency to "get on site" normally as a result of protracted negotiations or simply to get some work, results in the end of the honeymoon on the first pay day and divorce proceedings around the time retention payments are due.

10% off your margins normally means a loss on the project "but that is contracting and besides I am too busy on the next job to fight"...and the cycle starts again.
